The Joy of Decluttering JUL. 20, 2021 10:00 AM

Mental health experts are writing that mess causes stress, resulting in health issues and a feeling of helplessness. The great news is that it is possible to break through the clutter and create a fresh new home and life! Come hear how you can take back your life by living more simply. Receive practical advice on how to get started, what to do with “what’s left over,” and where to turn if you need more help.
